

A history of... quality

The environment in which our children are born is always a concern for our family owned business. Dinec makes all efforts possible to protect the environment and ensure nature's long term survival.

Here at Dinec, we all share a common ideology: it is the small everyday gesture that will make the difference! That is why we use every sheet of paper on each side before recycling it. We also recycle ink cartridges, all packaging material as well as every piece of wood that enters our plants. We provide all our employees with lunch bags and mugs in recycled material to cut down on the use of Styrofoam cups and plastic bags.

On a greater level, all our computer related material is eco-energetic and whenever applicable without affecting the quality of our furniture, we use pollution free machinery in our manufacturing process. We also use hydroelectricity as often as possible, a clean energy. To reduce carbonic gas emissions, we reduce the shipping of our products by consolidating orders at our distribution center and sending trucks on the road only when they are full.

We take the time to select certified and responsible suppliers in the industry and we verify where the wood we use in our plants comes from in order to protect our forests.

But we feel that the best way to be ecological and to protect our environment starts by producing quality products. Remember the furniture you saw at your grand-parent's home...beautifully constructed to last for generations. The Dinec quality furniture, built from North American solid birch wood will find its way in your children and grandchildren's house! It's guaranteed!

Dinec not only takes care of the environment, but also takes part in community life as well. Each year, we contribute financially to great non-lucrative organisations, such as the Quebec Cancer Society, the Montreal Heart Institute, Maison de jeunes L'Éveil of Louiseville, the Groupe Populaire d'Entraide, the National Woodworking School, and other organisations assisting youth in dispair.

When buying Dinec furniture, you are contributing to a home business that gives to the word QUALITY all its meaning!

Quality goes green...and beyond

Visit our website at www.dinec.com to learn more about our company and our Bedroom and Home Accents Collections.

